

MULTI SERVICES SOLUTIONS GROUP (MSSG) IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THE ADDITION OF TRIPLE H TECHNOLOGIES TO THE PORTFOLIO OF GROUP COMPANIES.

Triple H Technologies is the leading national fit-out business that specialises in the banking sector, delivering roll-out programs for client rebrand and refurbishments. From concept, design, construct, technology movements and logistics. Triple H provide clients with a total solution. Their skilled team of designers, project managers, field supervisors and site crews are strategically located around Australia making them uniquely positioned to deliver ATM upgrades and installations alongside minor and major building upgrades for retail banking outlets.

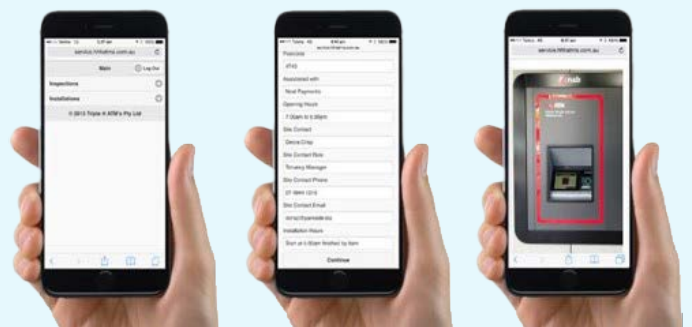

“Stuart and I have worked hard to grow a successful and exciting brand over the years, and as we continue to look to the future we decided to become part of the MSS Group to provide a sustainable future for the organisation. Richard Sams will continue to lead our operations and staff, whilst Stuart will continue to support IT development, and I will remain close-by as is my inherent motivation to see Triple H continue to grow. I believe we have found a like-minded business to join with, and Steve Mace, Chris Russell and their teams hold strong values that are customer focused, and ambitious toward their growth plans. As discussions progressed with MSSG I grew increasingly excited about the next phase for Triple H and look forward to working with the MSSG team into the future.”

David Harrop Triple H founder

Triple H utilise their inhouse state-of-the-art software that provides customers with real time reporting and operational transparency. Customers can log into the Triple H system at any time from anyplace and access live and dependable data on any project status.

MSS Group's team of construction trades, project managers, facility advisors, and mechanical service teams have strong expertise and experience in the aged care and retirement living, commercial, retail, health and government sectors – and linking together with Triple H brings new opportunities in adjacent and specialist building services, including new services of ATM and self-service equipment installations in new industry sectors.

Picture of the team signing the deal. From left to right; David Harrop, Steve Mace, Scott O'Keefe, Richard Sams

“From the moment I met David Harrop I felt we were very similar as we shared many values and cultural synergies as individuals. Over time it then became apparent we had equally as strong business principals and company affiliations. It was at this point it made sense to socialise the concept of continuing both MSS (Group) and Triple H journeys in a united approach.

I have the utmost confidence that staff and clients will enjoy great benefits from the alignment of our business and shared approach, and I look forward to exciting future together.”

Steve Mace, Chairman of MSS Group

“I am excited about working with the Triple H team. It is clear that our teams share many things in common, including our customer-focused approach to deliver quality and value, and a passion for developing technology platforms that make it easy for our staff and our customers. We are operating in similar yet adjacent industry sectors and locations; and joining together will strengthen our offering to the Australian market.”

Triple H are experts at what they do, and I'm excited about working with, Richard Sams and the wider team! Linking our companies together to create an even stronger network of service delivery for our customers.”

Chris Russell, MSS Group CEO

We look forward to meeting all of the teams and clients over the coming months, albeit this maybe made mowre challenging by the current government lockdowns, and understanding how we can further support and align to our teams and client's organisational goals.

We note that the Triple H logo includes the tag line 'Building the Future' and we believe that with the addition of Triple H this business alignment does exactly that, building on the strength of two growing brands to form a sustainable and exciting future together.

For further information contact

Richard Sams – richardsams@tripleh.com.au

Chris Russell – chrisr@mssgroup.com.au

Or go to

mssgroup.com.au

tripleh.com.au

